PASTORS' LETTER

Dear Friends,

I love spring and the newness the season brings (except for the accompanying allergies!). I enjoy the colors of flowers blooming and trees becoming fuller and greener. In school, both of our children are learning about seeds and growth in their science class. They are fascinated with growth and the life cycles of living things. Our daughter's current science projects compares the growth of lima bean seeds planted in different types of soil: silt, sand, and potting soil. They know the ingredients for growth – sun, water and soil – and they like to watch seeds grow into their potential.

In many ways, this planting and blooming is what we do in the church. We plant seeds of faith; we nourish them with key ingredients like prayer, reading the Bible, fellowship, worship and service; and we delight in signs of growth.

This spring, I see fruit of growth in our congregation. From Boomers to Beacons, from Young Adults to youth and children, ministry is blooming. I see the fruit of nurtured faith in Legacy Sunday (April 23, honoring those who've been members 50+ years), Youth Sunday (April 30), and Confirmation Sunday (May 7). Look at the blossoming faith of children who participate in summer camps and Vacation Bible School and service activities. Glimpse the burgeoning men's ministry and the long-standing ministry of music. See all ages engaged in Christian nurture through book studies and church school classes, through Presbyterian Women and prayer groups and congregational care. Rejoice in the fellowship of church picnics and socials and potlucks and the all-church retreat. Give thanks for compassion expressed in mission like our newly sprouting solar panel mission trip and our flourishing at Community Crossroads and Habitat. I think of the imagery of Psalm 1:

"They are like trees planted by streams of water,
which yield their fruit in its season,
and their leaves do not wither."

Ministry is blooming!

Yet, sometimes we see the fruit of the labor and sometimes the growth is not visible to us. And, still, we keep planting and nourishing, trusting the growth to God. However you are connected to Christ and the church, trust in God's growth, which God makes visible in God's time. Scripture says, "Neither the one who plants nor the one who waters is anything, but only God who gives the growth...For we are God's servants, working together" (1 Corinthians 3.7, 9). Let us continue to work together, worship together and witness together of God's grace that causes growth and brings joy. May it be so among us and beyond us, for God's glory!

Keep growing,

APRIL 30 REMINDERS

WHAT IS IT?

Believing that Jesus Christ is the Light of the world, the vision of the Solar Under the Sun (SUTS) – a ministry of the Synod of the Sun, a governing body of the Presbyterian Church (USA) – is to illuminate our fellow human beings with hope and life through solar energy. To do this, SUTS trains volunteers to design and install solar power systems with communities that lack reliable electrical power.

They train teams from congregations about partnership development, solar energy development and preparation of Initiating Partners to train Operating Partners to install, operate and maintain their solar energy system. Find out more about SOTS at <http://www.solarunderthesun.org/index.cfm>.

First Presbyterian hopes to send church members to Solar School I (July 6-9 at Highlands Camp in Allenspark, CO) and Solar School II (September 21-24 at Ferncliff Camp in Little Rock, Arkansas) this year. After our church members have been trained, we hope to take a team in 2018 to install a solar system in Haiti, working with PCUSA partners there.

Is God calling you to participate in this mission and ministry?

If so, please attend an information session on April 30 or contact Robyn Michalove.

WE CHOOSE WELCOME

Did you see the "We Choose Welcome" banner hanging outside the Great Hall recently? Borrowed briefly from the Presbytery, FPC was pleased to claim our commitment to answer refugee issues with an attitude of welcome. We've done this by:

- Training and creating a Welcome Team in partnership with Refugee Services of Texas who supported and assisted a Syrian family of 6. The family visited worship at FPC in December 2016
- Continuing to connect with the family through tutoring and personal relationships.
- Offering training at FPC on October 28, 2016 with Advocate for Refugees in Texas Workshop
- Pastoral staff public advocacy in the following ways: op-ed in the Fort Worth Star Telegram; signed Texas legislative petitions concerning refugees; participated in 2 separate meetings in Kay Granger's office; spoke about refugee ministry at the February 25 presbytery meeting; participated and led the Fort Worth interfaith Refugee Vigil in February at University Christian Church
- Hosting of Mary Mikhael to speak about the Syrian crisis in October 2016

FPC Celebrates Fall 2017 Scholar Named at Schreiner University

First Presbyterian Church is honored to contribute to the PASA Scholarship through Schreiner University. The recipient for the scholarship for next fall is David Angulo.

This delightful young man is from Mexico where his father is a Presbyterian pastor and his mother is a Kindergarten teacher. He is 2nd in his class and very involved in campus activities, including their campus ministry program. Schreiner is excited to welcome David this fall. A big thank you to FPC for its ongoing support of this and other scholarship funds.

Karl Travis Named Among Macedonian Ministry's Outstanding Faculty to Teach Pastors and Laity

MACEDONIAN MINISTRY

First Presbyterian Church's own Rev. Karl Travis has been appointed to the Macedonian Ministry Faculty to teach pastors and laity. Since its founding in 2008, Macedonian Ministry has been privileged to work with an amazing line-up of pastors, theologians, community leaders, and practitioners of the Gospel. In addition to its staff and Advisory Board, the newly appointed Ministry Faculty are gifted leaders now available to lead workshops and seminars for the ministry's cohorts and alumni.

"Forming a Faculty of outstanding practitioners in Christian pastoral ministry has been my dream since Macedonian Ministry's inception. So often when pastors hear gifted leaders in ministry, they hear them in a large setting with 100, 200, or 300 other pastors! But now, this new Macedonian Ministry Faculty will allow our pastors and alumni, small group access to some of the most gifted practitioners in America. This is a priceless treasure for our pastors and an exciting day for Macedonian Ministry!"

– Rev. Dr. Tom Tewell, Founder & Executive Director, Macedonian Ministry

Karl's duties will take him away from Fort Worth for 3-4 days each year. He will serve alongside the Rev. Dr. Tom Long (Bandy Professor of Preaching Emeritus at Candler School of Theology, Emory University), Dr. Willie Jennings (Associate Professor of Systematic Theology and Africana Studies, Yale Divinity School), the Rev. Dr. William H. Willimon (Professor of the Practice of Christian Ministry at the Divinity School, Duke University), and many others.

STEWARDSHIP

Engaging the World with Kids Hope USA

"What can churches do to make the greatest difference in the lives of America's at-risk children?" This question became the foundation of Dr. Virgil Gulker's vision to create an organization to provide reliable adult relationships to children within elementary schools. Ultimately, the "One" model was developed: One Child, One Hour, One Church, One School.

Through this model, one child struggling with friends, family or academics is paired with one adult member of one church that partners with one elementary school. They meet for one hour, every single week, for the entirety of the school year.

Two years ago, First Presbyterian Church joined Kids Hope USA's network of over 1000 other churches. To date, First Presbyterian accounts for 29 mentors accompanied by a supporting prayer partner. Patrick Sheppard became involved with Kids Hope USA after learning about it through an announcement at church. He recognizes the impact of his weekly meetings reiterating that "Being present is what's important in these kids' lives." Kids Hope USA mentors over 16,000 children in the United States.

Please contact Becky Jenkins at mbgjenkins@gmail.com to get further information about how to volunteer for this wonderful organization through First Presbyterian Church. Additional information about the organization can be viewed at www.kidshopeusa.org.
