PASTORS' LETTER

Dear friends,

This Friday 114 First Pres folk will jump into cars for the hours long journey to the Presbyterian Mo-Ranch Assembly, near Kerrville in the beautiful Texas Hill Country. For those who stay behind, maybe you will attend the 2019 All Church Retreat. Either way, Mo-Ranch is a gem that all Texas Presbyterians can be proud of.

Dan Moran – then President of Continental Oil Company (Conoco) – bought the ranch in 1936. He dammed the Guadalupe River to create a small lake, installed a huge water slide still in use 70 years later, added a large swimming pool, a skating rink, and dorms for his visitors. The ranch takes its name from Moran: Mo-Ranch. When Moran died in 1948, his widow sold the ranch to the Synod of Texas for $512,500 and Texas Presbyterians paid for the purchase with a hefty capital campaign. Mo-Ranch – known simply and affectionately as Mo – has since been a treasured place of respite and renewal for generations.

First Pres has a long history with Mo, with Mary Morgan Sullivan, Bob Adcock, and now Ellen Benson serving on its Board of Trustees through the years, among others. We have contributed financially and benefited in a thousand ways, sending children and teens to camp, taking church retreats, encouraging men to attend the annual Mo Men's Conference (the second largest gathering of Presbyterian men in the country), and our clergy using the facility for continuing education conferences and get-aways.

If you've never been, a visit to Mo will be a highlight for you. If you are a return visitor, you already know what makes Mo so special. Jaci and I are among the 114 headed to Mo for the Labor Day retreat, so I'll see you in church September 9.

Until then, Godspeed,

Jackie playing Bible Jeopardy with the 5th graders

A note from Jackie Taylor, one of our church school shepherds:

Thirteen years ago I retired after twenty-nine years as a sixth grade teacher. Retirement has been great, and I had time to do all the things I didn't have time to do when I was a professional teacher. One day I realized I no longer knew any of the children with whom I worshipped on Sunday morning. Soon afterwards, I read an appeal for shepherds to work with children during Sunday church school. Being a shepherd made me realize how very much I missed being with children. I've made a whole new age group of friends! I find I enter the sanctuary at 11 o'clock for worship with a smile on my face and twinkle in my eye. As a "Golden Ager" shepherd in our church school, I feel I've discovered the "Fountain of Youth." How nurturing it is to spend one hour a week and once more view God's wonderful world through the eyes of a child! Won't you join me in serving as a Shepherd? Contact Amy Parker at the church office or aparker@fpcfw.org for more information.

Book People is a book club for members of the church and friends. Each of the fall books is set in Texas so not only will we have a good story, but we'll learn something about the events of our state's history. On September 10 (often the height of hurricane season) we will discuss Isaac's Storm by Erik Larson, the story of the 1900 hurricane which hit Galveston and killed 6,000 people. It is considered by some to be the greatest natural disaster in American history. This book is available from the Fort Worth library and in multiple formats from Amazon. Book People meets from 12 noon to 1 p.m. in Room 226. Members of the church and friends are welcome. If you have questions, please contact Elizabeth Johnson Pense (ejpense@me.com)

While in attendance, they met with and listened to this year's Bible Study author, Amy Poling Sutherlun. The topic for this year's study is, "God's Promise: I Am With You." They also heard the next two Bible Study authors: Eugenia Gamble writing on the Ten Commandments offered during 2019-20, and Lynn Miller whose 2021-21 study is titled, "To You They Cried: Reclaiming Lament." All three studies promise to be inspirational and thought provoking.

Beacons Quarterly Potluck: September 26

The next Beacons' Quarterly Potluck dinner will be on Wednesday, September 26, at 5 p.m. in the Gym. The program will be a Beacons' Antique Roadshow, led by Judy Mollet, the owner of Transitions, Estate Sales, & Appraisals. Judy is the lady who led the very popular roadshow for us several years ago, and our Executive Committee is excited to bring her back. Please bring your antique treasures and their stories, and Judy will provide estimates of what they are worth. The church will provide the meat dish; so please bring a vegetable, salad, or dessert. We look forward to you joining us for a fun evening.

Community Crossroads Renovation Update

Last summer the church began to examine the need to renovate, and possibly expand, our Community Crossroads ministry building. Community Crossroads currently provides a venue for five ministries – First Hand food and clothing distribution, a dental clinic, formula and diapers (FAD), and Worship on Wednesdays (WOW). In addition to setting funds aside in the 2018 budget, the church chartered two groups to look into possible changes to the building.

The Mission Outreach Committee established a sub-committee to assess and prioritize the current and future ministries housed at Community Crossroads (CC). They considered values, community engagement, and theological goals of the various ministries. This sub-committee considered the needs and views of the stake-holders -- church staff, volunteers, community members using the ministries, and other agencies who set up services at Community Crossroads.
